Short Term Disability

Offered through The Hartford

A disability can happen to anyone. A back injury, pregnancy, or serious illness can lead to months without a regular paycheck. If you're unable to work for a short period of time due to a non-work related condition, illness or injury, short-term disability insurance offers financial protection by paying you a portion of your earnings.

This plan pays a 60% of weekly salary benefit, to a maximum of $500 per week for a maximum of 11 weeks. Benefits begin on the 15th day of disability.
